Request Message: My ORCA card number is [REDACTED]. I got on the Link light rail at the University of Washington Station at 17:02 on July 14, 2018. At approximately 17:15, a fare agent asked to scan my card. The agent was abusive, and reminded me of the guards on Orange is the New Black. I asked him for his name, but he refused to tell me, probably realizing that I was planning to file a complaint.

Therefore, this is a public records request for the name of the Pierce Transit fare enforcement agent who scanned my card today.

If you are able to identify the agent and give me his name, then my request will be satisfied. If you choose to deny this request because the information does not exist in this form (or for any other reason), then please consider this a request for all fare checking records for the light rail train that left the University of Washington station on July 14, 2018 at approximately 17:10, including ORCA card numbers and the name of the agent who scanned each batch of cards.

I also ask that you preserve video from that train because I intend to request it if I can't get the name any other way.
